Position Description

3. Cleveland Clinic

The Cleveland Clinic (formally known as the Cleveland Clinical Foundation) is a multi-speciality academic medical centre located in Cleveland Ohio, United States. The Cleveland Clinic is currently regarded as one the top 4 hospitals in the United States and is one of the largest private medical centres in the world. The Cleveland Clinic's approximately 2,500 staff physicians and residents represent 120 medical specialties and sub-specialties. The Cleveland Clinic, Cleveland, is one of the leading not-for-profit health care providers in the United States of America, and has 10 regional hospitals in Northeast Ohio, a hospital and family health centre in Florida, and a health centre in Toronto, Canada, a speciality centre in Las Vegas and a hospital in Abu Dhabi opening in 2013. The main campus of the Cleveland Clinic consists of 41 buildings on more than 140 acres near University Circle, in the Fairfax Neighbourhood of Cleveland, Ohio. The Cleveland Clinic operates 12 family health and ambulatory surgery centres in surrounding communities. The Department of Colon and Rectal Surgery at the Cleveland Clinic covers all facets of colon rectal surgery and is one of the pre-eminent training departments in North America.

4. Purpose of the Position

The Fellow in Colon and Rectal Surgery at Epworth HealthCare and the Cleveland Clinic is a full time position designed to provide exposure to all facets of colon and rectal surgery and is an excellent training opportunity for a young Australian surgeon. This opportunity is a result of the initiative between Epworth HealthCare and the Cleveland Clinic to commence this unique affiliation, the only such affiliation between the Cleveland Clinic and any other institution in the world.

Position Description

The Fellow will be responsible for the day to day colorectal clinical program, to oversee the clinical management of patients on the ward and in the operating theatre.

To assist with training of the registrar and resident medical officers. To be involved in the provision of undergraduate and postgraduate teaching and research as appropriate.

The Fellow will be enrolled for a university higher degree in surgery, and thus is involved in several research projects, primarily clinical research with a view to attaining the higher degree, publication of articles in refereed journals, and presentations at international and national colorectal meetings.
