

POSITION DESCRIPTION

POSITION TITLE:	Communications Advisor
DIVISION:	People, Customer and Communication
DEPARTMENT:	Strategic Communications
SECTION:	Communications Partnering and Delivery
CLASSIFICATION:	Band 6

POSITION OBJECTIVE:

The Communications Advisor plays a key advisory and delivery role within the Strategic Communications Department and supports the delivery of high-quality communications services across the organisation.

Working within the Communications Partnering and Delivery team, the role acts as a communications partner to assigned departments and portfolios, providing advice, planning and end-to-end delivery of communications activities that support organisational priorities, projects, programs and services.

The Communications Advisor develops and delivers integrated communications plans, campaigns and content that are audience-centred, accessible and aligned to Council priorities. The role works collaboratively across the Strategic Communications Department and the broader organisation to ensure communications activities are coordinated, effective, measurable and delivered in accordance with Council's service catalogue, governance frameworks and brand standards.

The role is responsible for managing communications projects from briefing through to evaluation, building strong stakeholder relationships and providing a responsive, professional and customer-focused communications service.

KEY RESPONSIBILITIES AND DUTIES:

1. Communications Planning and Delivery

- Develop and implement communications plans, campaigns and activities that support Council projects, programs, services and organisational priorities.
- Manage communications projects from initiation to completion, including planning, content development, approvals, implementation and evaluation.
- Provide communications advice and recommendations to stakeholders on appropriate communications approaches, channels and timing.
- Develop clear and effective communications materials including key messages, articles, social media content, web content, publications, presentations, briefing materials and stakeholder communications.

- Ensure communications activities are audience-centred, accessible, inclusive and aligned to organisational objectives.
- Coordinate delivery of communications activities across channels including digital, social media, internal communications, publications, media and stakeholder engagement.
- Monitor and evaluate communications activities and provide reporting and recommendations for continuous improvement.
- Support delivery of integrated campaigns that contribute to organisational and community outcomes.

2. Business Partnering and Stakeholder Management

- Build productive working relationships with assigned departments, project teams and stakeholders across the organisation.
- Act as a key communications contact for allocated portfolios and projects.
- Participate in forward planning discussions with stakeholders to identify communications opportunities, risks and upcoming priorities.
- Provide responsive, professional and customer-focused communications support that builds confidence in the Strategic Communications Department.
- Assist stakeholders to navigate Council's communications processes, governance requirements and service catalogue.
- Manage stakeholder expectations regarding priorities, timeframes and deliverables.
- Work collaboratively with subject matter experts to translate complex information into clear and engaging communications.

3. Service Catalogue and Project Management

- Deliver communications services in accordance with the Strategic Communications service catalogue and agreed service standards.
- Utilise Council's communications briefing and project management systems to manage workflow, priorities and reporting.
- Assess communications requests and ensure activities are appropriately scoped, prioritised and delivered.
- Maintain accurate project records, timelines, approvals and reporting requirements.
- Contribute to workload planning and prioritisation activities across the Communications Partnering and Delivery team.
- Support consistent and efficient communications processes across the organisation.

4. Reputation and Risk Awareness

- Identify potential communications, reputational or stakeholder risks and escalate appropriately.
- Support implementation of issues management and communications responses as required.

- Ensure communications activities align with Council policies, governance requirements, organisational priorities and brand standards.
- Exercise sound judgement when managing communications activities in complex or sensitive environments.
- Maintain awareness of emerging issues and stakeholder considerations that may impact communications outcomes.

5. Collaboration and Continuous Improvement

- Work collaboratively with Communications Advisors, Senior Communications Advisors and specialist communications teams to deliver integrated communications outcomes.
- Contribute to the continuous improvement of communications systems, processes, templates and governance frameworks.
- Promote best-practice communications approaches across the organisation.
- Share knowledge, learnings and insights with colleagues to support capability development.
- Participate in departmental planning, service reviews and continuous improvement initiatives.
- Represent the Strategic Communications Department in meetings, workshops and working groups as required.
